The Chairs of each Theme Group along with Lead Officers are currently involved in consultation on the alignment. A Consultation on the Future of Policing in Scotland

Policing in Scotland has, historically and correctly, happened by consent and this should remain – that is why we are consulting. There are a variety of views about the future of policing, and it is important that they are heard. This is a change we must get right and we will take the time to do that, working in partnership and building consensus. We want the people of Scotland and those who work in the police service, and partner agencies to contribute to this discussion. The following link will take you to the consultation on the Scottish Government Website www.scotland.gov.uk/policereform

A Consultation on the Future of the Fire and Rescue Service in Scotland

The Scottish Government is seeking views on the future of the Fire and Rescue Service in Scotland, and would like to hear from you. The following link takes you to the consultation document on our website: www.scotland.gov.uk/FireReform. The closing date for the consultation is 5 May 2011. Please feel free to pass on the invitation to anyone who may be interested, and let us know if you have any problems accessing the consultation document.
